

Middle and High School Guided Tours

Guided tours include a self-guided tour when booked during the historic house season (May – October)

Uncovering the Past: An Archaeological Tour

Join a professional guide to explore several archaeological sites and discover how the information preserved underground can teach us about the daily life of people living in this region over the last 400 years.

Learning from the Landscape: A Botanical History Tour

Explore 400 years of history through Strawberry Banke's gardens and landscapes. Tours can be customized to the interest of the group and often include subjects such as medicinal plant history, culinary plants and historic recipes and ornamental flower traditions (offered May – Oct).

Tale of Two Marys: 19th-century Women's History

Compare and contrast the stories of two windowed women living in the same neighborhood 200 years ago. Discover how quality of life was influenced by gender, economic status and sometimes, pure grit.

Recollections of Home: The Early 20th-century Through Oral Histories

Step back into the 1920s Puddle Dock neighborhood. Hear stories about the adventures, relationships, and daily life procured from the oral histories of immigrants and first generation American children who grew up here.

Keeping History Above Water: Sea-Level Rise Solutions

Tour through historic houses that are being affected by sea-level rise. Compare and contrast mitigation strategies and learn how people can adapt their behaviors to decrease the impact.